Day 4: Baalbeck – Anjar & Ksara

Baalbeck, located in the Bekaa valley 85 kilometers away from Beirut. It makes up the largest and best preserved corpus of roman architecture left around. The acropolis occupies the top of an artificial hill built up of different layers of habitation.

Its temples, dedicated to Jupiter, Bacchus and Venus, were constructed between the first and the third centuries A.D.

In the “Jupiter temple” six of the 54 giant columns that originally surrounded the sanctuary survived till today. The temple has an impressive podium and a vast rectangular courtyard where sacrifices were carried out. The sanctuary is reached through a propylaea (monumental entrance) and hexagonal forecourt.

The town of Baalbeck has major remains from Islamic times including the grand Mosque, built by the Ommayyads with material borrowed from ancient monuments, and another mosque built in Mamluke times near the spring of Ras El-Ain.

After that a visit to the city of Anjar which was founded by Caliph Walid I at the beginning of the 8th century. The ruins reveal a very regular layout, reminiscent of the palace-cities of ancient times, and are a unique testimony to city planning under the Umayyad’s.

Later during the day you will proceed to Ksara, the home of the country’s oldest winery founded in 1857 by Jesuit Fathers. The wines are made with the highest standards with state of the art equipment, they also reflect the terroir of the Lebanon’s historic Bekaa Valley, an area that has been making wine for over 2,000 years
