There are two techniques. You may find details below. Both technique are used and recommended.

Micro Fue Hair Transplant (included in the package)

The FUE hair transplantation method has been developed to no longer expose patients to risks, such as major scarring and pain. During the treatment, patients own hairs are transplanted, and this without disadvantages as ugly scars or long recovery periods.

You can generally see FUE (Follicular Unit Extraction). During the process, individual follicles – typically between 1 and 4 hairs – are removed under local anesthesia. The extraction procedure utilizes a micro surgical extraction instrument to remove the follicles.

Our surgeons are experts at blending the hair in, inserting the grafts at an angle and density that matches the original hair, so it will resemble a natural and realistic hair pattern. MICRO FUE hair transplantation does not require large areas of the scalp to be harvested. There is also no linear incision on the back of the head, nor does it leave a linear scar.

DHI technique / (WITH EXTRA CHARGES ...TO BE ADVISED)

With DHI Direct Hair Implantation hair follicles are implanted one by one directly to the thinning area that needs to be covered. Each hair follicle is placed in a specific direction, angle and depth, thanks to the DHI patented tool, the DHI implanter, providing 100% natural results and maximum viability. The implanted hairs continue to grow throughout a person's lifetime and do not fall out.

There will be 3 main steps:

1) Extract:

Hair follicles are extracted one by one from the donor area using a specifically designed disposable tool with the diameter of 1mm or less.

2) Collect:

Extracted hair follicles are collected and kept at a specific temperature and in a solution that enhances their development after placement.

3) Inject:

Hair follicles are injected one by one to the recipient area using a patented tool, the DHI Implanter, with a diameter of 1mm or less.
